

Kejal Hasmukharay

Consultant Geriatrician

University Malaya Medical Centre(UMMC)
Malaysia

Meet Dr. Kejal Hasmukharay, a geriatrician at UMMC. She specializes in understanding immune-senescence, infections in the elderly, and identifying pre-frail states in older persons. Dr. Hasmukharay is a strong advocate of preventive medicine and empowering older individuals to embrace active and healthy aging. She is also involved in ongoing clinical research and teaches medical and post-graduate students. During the COVID pandemic, she contributed to the development of interim recommendations for aged care facilities and an online infection control training program for aged care providers in Malaysia
